

THE SEMINARIAN

vol. 37 no. 1

September 16, 1975

WELCOME AND WELCOME BACK!!!

It's good to see the new faces and the old around campus. This issue of the Seminarian is dedicated to all new members of our community and especially to the Class of 1979.

This is a newspaper. More specifically, this is The Seminarian, the weekly student publication of the seminary community at Mt. Airy. Through the years, as far as I have seen, this publication took many forms. It will probably be a little different again this year. That's what this paper is all about. It is your voice, and you make it say what you want it to (provided you can get it by the editors). Right off, then, I encourage you to use The Seminarian as the vehicle of communication it was meant to be.

How can you use this paper? Well, without it becoming a sort of bulletin board -- there are supposedly several of those around -- The Seminarian is a place where students and faculty can make announcements of meetings, events, etc. Your message will meet a lot of eyes. Secondly, this paper is a major vein of communication between the campus and the Board of Directors. To that end, I have talked Scott Schantzenbach, the Student Body President and main link between the students and Board, into providing us with an article about every other week. In addition, of course, this is a way you can communicate with the Board.

This year we would also like to revive the tradition of The Seminarian being a theological forum. It can't be the journal it used to be, but it is a good way of knowing where the students and faculty are at with important issues, and hopefully we can refine what has lingered in the background the past few years.

There are a few simple rules to follow if you want something printed:

- 1) The editors have final say over what gets printed.
- 2) All articles must be signed -- no name, no print!
- 3) All articles must be in by 5:00 Monday -- no one is above that deadline.

Slip articles under The Seminarian office door (3rd floor refectory) or give them to a staff member.

Speaking of staff -- our merry trio of workers from last year needs plenty of help, and we would especially appreciate some juniors pitching in. Contact one of us and we'll get you working. Let's have a good time!!!

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER: In future weeks this "corner" will include brief reviews of devositional books, articles on worship concerns, etc. Today I have only three brief items. First, many thanks to all of you who volunteered to serve as sacristans. Out of the hat- literally- we drew the names of Philip Gustafson and Mark Oldenburg to serve in the first semester with Marie and Claire. Second, the Chapel schedule is delayed by an office log jam and will appear next week. Committees are being informed via the spoken word. Finally, we're off to a GREAT start. Let's continue the spirited worship we've experienced so far.

YOU ARE INVITED: New members of the Seminary community are invited to share in the life of the Mt. Airy neighborhood's Lutheran congregation Ascension Church, co-resident of the chapel building. While most seminary students will have Sunday morning field work responsibilities, a variety of activities for children and adults are available to students and their families.

Ascension's life includes contemporary and traditional worship (9 and 11 am Sundays), Church School (9:45am Sunday), beginning at age 3 and including an adult forum, Bible Study groups, junior and senior choirs, youth group, weekday nursery school, Cubs, Brownies, and Boy Scouts, art classes, adult study groups, and many other opportunities for participation and service. You can get further information by calling or stopping in (weekday mornings) and speaking to George Freeman, Pastor.
